STRAZTORF, Ill., August 28.—The vestibule on the South Side train, running between Kansas City and Chicago, met with a serious accident at Kinross, a small station about fifteen miles north of here, at 8 o'clock this morning. The train was heavily loaded with Grand Army veterans and their friends, some of the Milwaukee Post having accompanied several extra coaches. By the spreading of the rails three coaches, two Pullman sleepers and the dining car, were thrown from the track and derailed, and a number of persons, probably forty feet. Word was immediately telegraphed to this city for assistance and a special train was sent at once with a dozen

The men are as yet quiet orderly. The shipbuilders are completely paralyzed and all steamers are without cargoes.

SUITS AGAINST DOCK OWNERS.

Many ship owners have begun suits against the Commercial Dock Co., claiming damages for the detention of their vessels. The company, however, claim that the act of Parliament granting them a charter precludes the enforcement of any claims for damages owing to strikes.

JOINED THE STRIKE.

The tanners at Berdmore, a suburban town, have joined the strikers. In Rochester, the ship-building district of London, processions of strikers are marching continually, but up to the present time the men seem to be peaceable and well behaved.

surgeons on board. The wrecker was also out to clear up the track. Those most seriously injured were taken to St. Mary's Hospital, where their wounds were properly attended to. In all there were probably fifty persons hurt, and though none were killed, the following are in a very dangerous condition:

THE INJURED.

Mrs. S. S. DICKEY, Mrs. Lawrence, Canby, chest and head badly cut, little son hurt about back and face.

Mr. Finn, Topeka, seriously, head injured.

Yesterday, reports having spoken the Ten-tonic Friday morning at 10:30. The latitude was 41.00, longitude 68.33. At that time the Ten-tonic was 68 miles east of Sandy Hook. The Ten-tonic was on her way to New York, and the forty-two hours from the time she crossed the bar, which was on Wednesday afternoon at 10:30, she was at the rate of sixteen nautical miles an hour.

The City of New York, which sailed forty minutes later, was also spoken at the same place. Both the Ten-tonic and the City of New York crossed the bar at the time she was spoken.

Mr. W. H. CRACKERMAN, Topeka, face badly cut and internally injured.

Mrs. EDWARD ANDSLEY, lives near Carrollton, Mo., arm, head and back badly bruised and lacerated.

Mrs. GEORGE B. PETERS, Emporia, Kan., head and face washed and cut.

Mrs. GEO. PETERS, Emporia, hurt about the chest and face.

Mrs. J. S. JOHNSON, Norfolk, Conn., badly hurt internally and head and face cut.

In addition to the above, five stretcher bearers had his face cut and arm dislocated, but his injuries are not dangerous. The others are at the hospital. The majority of the above, it is feared, will die.

All the way the speed was so great that the minstrels said they found it difficult to move around the car, and sleep during the night was almost impossible. This fast train was necessary to get the train to town in time for the night's opening at the Olympic Theater. The cost of the train was $935. A large number of friends were at the depot to welcome the minstrels.

In the evening when Dockstader's Minstrels opened at the theater there was a great audience to witness their performance. The company is without exception the strongest in the burnt-cork line that the country knows.

Manager Hogan has reason for congratulation on the opening of Pope's. The new curtain and improved appearance of the house did not go without ample appreciation from the public. The people were out in full force in the afternoon and evening. As the season advanced the house was better taken, and in the evening there was a crowd standing behind the railing unable to secure seats. It was altogether a thoroughly successful inauguration of the season.

But while there was evidence of approval of the efforts made by the management to increase the comfort of the patrons of the house, there was also a rather general feeling of uneasiness and dissatisfaction on the part of the audience and its managers to provide entertainment.

for the occasion. In "Con Connoir & Co." Mr. Sully has used the materials of the "Connoir" and "Con Place" in a popular favor heretofore, suited, however, to new conditions and adornments. He appeals to their sympathies through the keenness of everyday life. He preaches and contrasts integrity and affection and kindly clarity with aggressive greed, dishonesty and selfishness. He is quick to laugh by broad but wholesome humor and touches the gentler chords of the heart by the pathos of his own touching story of human affection. Mr. Sully is thus unscathed and even grows in his own power. He is touching, convincing and effective about his types and keeps in his present play there is much to be learned. He is a good, thoughtful, smoother shaver and better constancy of parts, but it apparently meets the wants of parts. It is greeted with laughter, tears and approval.

and Dead in His Bed in a Hotel, an "Editorial" in the New York, August 26.—There was a "Coroner's case" in the Barstow House, No. 1419 Broadway, yesterday. Manuel Rubira, a wealthy Spaniard who was formerly a well-known New York sugar merchant, but who had been active business many years ago, was found dead in his bed in his apartment, a rear room on the third floor of the hotel, shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday forenoon. Rubira, who had been married, arrived at the hotel of being a millionaire. He was a bachelor of somewhat eccentric habits, and he had recently been in the Barstow House, where he made his New York headquarters, for several years. He had lived for several years he has been troubled with consumption and lately he has suffered acutely from it. He had been in the Barstow House for some time, and he was interested in the apartment, he found Mr. Rubira lying dead on his bed with his legs drawn up over his head in an agony. There was a large number of partially emptied bottles at the head of the bed. Dr. J. J. Coroner County made an examination of the body. He found that Rubira had died of heart disease, he said, from exhaustion following consumption.

Serious Allegations of John Annis Against the Authorities at Kilmavick.
Last Tuesday afternoon Harry Annis, aged 71, a son of Mr. John Annis, was accidentally drowned in the water at Kilmavick, Groves. Friday the body was recovered at Kilmavick, Mo. On the day following the body was given burial on Chesley Island by the authorities of Jefferson County. Yesterday afternoon Mr. John Annis called on the authorities at Kilmavick, and he was given a view to removing the body to St. Louis, where he would be buried. He said that he was dissatisfied with the manner in which his child was interred. The feeling authorities, he asserted, not only did not provide for the removal of the body, but they threw the body into the earth without a coffin and without any funeral services. He desired to be obtained through the courts Mr.

San Francisco Couple Beating Their Way Across the Continent.

DENVER, Colo., August 25.—Several months ago, Charles Fish, a clerk in a San Francisco store, while attempting to board a ferryboat made a mistake and fell over some ropes into the arms of Mary Hubbard, a daughter of a respectable merchant. With an apology, the young man departed. A few nights afterwards the pair met at a party, and from that time on a friendship sprang up. Finding that the girl's parents were opposed to the match, the couple, after a few weeks' delay, were secretly married at Sacramento. The young man, having only $35, told his wife if they could manage to get away, they would be married, as he had wealthy relatives there. This

A high-contrast, black and white photograph showing a close-up of a textured surface, possibly a book cover or endpaper. A vertical crease or fold is visible, dividing the image into two main sections. The left section is dark and textured, while the right section is bright white. There are some small, dark specks and marks on the white surface.

This image shows a blank, aged, cream-colored page, likely an endpaper or flyleaf of a book. The paper has a slightly textured appearance with some minor creases and discoloration, characteristic of old paper. The left edge of the page is bound, showing the inner hinge and some stitching. The overall tone is warm and slightly yellowed.

St. Louis Market.
ABOLISHED SESSION, CLOSING 1:15 P. M.
Wheat opened as though there would be a repetition of last week's stagnant and immovable market. Though local receipts were the second largest of any one day on the crop, the shipments were almost as large,
and the stock showed little change, which tended to hold cautious traders off from selling, though the demand was light, as there was nothing in sight to buy on. European markets were dull and lower, the weather abroad fine, and it was in this country. There were no superior receipts at any point, but Missouri reported 170 cars in the seaboard markets were weak and locally the sentiment was bearish. Early in the day prices declined slightly for September and December and it looked for some time as though it would be impossible to lift the market more than a few cents above the previous level.
The Vienna Congress report that it was agreed to produce 250,000,000 bushels of wheat, and the market was accordingly looked for, and the market ruled steady to the close, which was 10 cents above the previous level.
